TIME FOR CASTLES & CONQUESTS

Cahir Castle, Nenagh

Cahir Castle is one of the most spectacular landmarks in Ireland. Perched on an elevated limestone plain, overlooking the Golden Vale, it is an incredible sight to behold. The history of the rock implies the Devil himself. The story goes that the Rock was originally part of a mountain that stood north of Cahir (the Devil's Bit). During an epic battle between St. Patrick and the Devil, the Devil bit a hunk of rock out of the mountain. Afterwards, in a rage, the Devil spat out the rock, which landed in Cahir. Today, a walk to the cliffside lake is the perfect place to unwind and take some time out.

Roscrea Castle & Damer House, Roscrea

Roscrea Castle is an amazing 13th century site of the old royal castle located in the heart of Roscrea. The castle grounds consist of a grand entrance walkway and two corner towers. Originally owned by King John of England, the castle dates to 1280.

Swiss Cottage, Cahir

One of Ireland's largest and best-preserved castles is Cahir Castle. It is located on a rocky island in the middle of the River Suir, which served as a natural fortress. The castle was occupied by Lord and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate) and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate). It is one of the foremost pieces of Celtic art in Ireland and was initially built as a military fortress. Today, you can still see two of the main towers, Holy Trinity Church, and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate) and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate) and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate) and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate).

Swiss Cottage, Cahir

One of Ireland's largest and best-preserved castles is Cahir Castle. It is located on a rocky island in the middle of the River Suir, which served as a natural fortress. The castle was occupied by Lord and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate) and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate). It is one of the foremost pieces of Celtic art in Ireland and was initially built as a military fortress. Today, you can still see two of the main towers, Holy Trinity Church, and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate) and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate) and Lady Cahir's private domain (estate).

Tell me a story from before I can remember...

Clonmel Castle

The Main Guard, Clonmel

Clonmel Castle is one of the most spectacular landmarks in Ireland. Perched on an elevated limestone plain, overlooking the Golden Vale, it is an incredible sight to behold. The history of the rock implies the Devil himself. The story goes that the Rock was originally part of a mountain that stood north of Cahir (the Devil's Bit). During an epic battle between St. Patrick and the Devil, the Devil bit a hunk of rock out of the mountain. Afterwards, in a rage, the Devil spat out the rock, which landed in Cahir. Today, a walk to the cliffside lake is the perfect place to unwind and take some time out.

Your story starts here
Discover the rich ecclesiastical heritage of Tipperary on this walking tour. Leading you to church sites, old monasteries, holy wells and other sacred places, the heritage sites contain a wealth of history and heritage spanning Biblical times, from the earliest years of Christianity in Ireland to the 20th century after St. Patrick, to modern churches. Derrynaflan Trail is a walking tour with a free audio guide.

Featherstone, Holycross

Holycross Abbey, the monastery founded by Saint Patrick, contains a wealth of stories and history spanning fifteen centuries, from the earliest years of Christianity in Ireland to the 20th century. The ruins of the abbey, one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century, the abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The monastery was famous for music concerts. Be sure to visit the Abbey ruins.

Tipperary is a haven of heritage and natural beauty. Tipperary boasts beautiful views of the landscape and hillsides, mountain ridges and forested valleys, home to the famous Cashel Task and Black Wood.

Biking/Cycling

With magnificent mountain ranges, unspoiled valleys, scented hiking trails and ancient lakes, adventure awaits at your every turn. Enjoy an afternoon out with friends at the greyhound races or simply want to revel in Tipperary’s natural beauty by taking a relaxing river cruise.

Fishing/Sailing

Whether you are a beginner or an expert, there are so many options for anglers and sailors... The Augustinians in the 12th century, the abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The monastery was famous for music concerts. Be sure to visit the Abbey ruins.

Horse Riding

There is much more to Tipperary than horses. It is a haven of heritage and natural beauty. Tipperary boasts beautiful views of the landscape and hillsides, mountain ridges and forested valleys, home to the famous Cashel Task and Black Wood.

Dromineer and Terryglass can be explored. Explore part of The Butler Trail, which starts at Ormond Castle in Carrick on Suir. The trail follows the banks of the Nenagh River from the historic town of Nenagh to the banks of the River Suir as far as the quaint lakeside village of Dromineer.

Fishing/Sailing

Whether you are a beginner or an expert, there are so many options for anglers and sailors... The Augustinians in the 12th century, the abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The monastery was famous for music concerts. Be sure to visit the Abbey ruins.

Horse Riding

There is much more to Tipperary than horses. It is a haven of heritage and natural beauty. Tipperary boasts beautiful views of the landscape and hillsides, mountain ridges and forested valleys, home to the famous Cashel Task and Black Wood.

Dromineer and Terryglass can be explored. Explore part of The Butler Trail, which starts at Ormond Castle in Carrick on Suir. The trail follows the banks of the Nenagh River from the historic town of Nenagh to the banks of the River Suir as far as the quaint lakeside village of Dromineer.

Fishing/Sailing

Whether you are a beginner or an expert, there are so many options for anglers and sailors... The Augustinians in the 12th century, the abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The monastery was famous for music concerts. Be sure to visit the Abbey ruins.

Horse Riding

There is much more to Tipperary than horses. It is a haven of heritage and natural beauty. Tipperary boasts beautiful views of the landscape and hillsides, mountain ridges and forested valleys, home to the famous Cashel Task and Black Wood.

Dromineer and Terryglass can be explored. Explore part of The Butler Trail, which starts at Ormond Castle in Carrick on Suir. The trail follows the banks of the Nenagh River from the historic town of Nenagh to the banks of the River Suir as far as the quaint lakeside village of Dromineer.

Fishing/Sailing

Whether you are a beginner or an expert, there are so many options for anglers and sailors... The Augustinians in the 12th century, the abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The abbey was one of Ireland’s biggest monasteries, for the Augustinians in the 12th century. The monastery was famous for music concerts. Be sure to visit the Abbey ruins.

Horse Riding

There is much more to Tipperary than horses. It is a haven of heritage and natural beauty. Tipperary boasts beautiful views of the landscape and hillsides, mountain ridges and forested valleys, home to the famous Cashel Task and Black Wood.

Dromineer and Terryglass can be explored. Explore part of The Butler Trail, which starts at Ormond Castle in Carrick on Suir. The trail follows the banks of the Nenagh River from the historic town of Nenagh to the banks of the River Suir as far as the quaint lakeside village of Dromineer.